

The Amber Room

Amber is the fossilized remains of tree resin. It looks like brown or yellow gemstones, and is commonly used to craft jewelry. Most amber is clear. Occasionally, however, debris (including insects!) gets trapped in it while it is still sticky.

Amber is most often used to create jewelry, but it can be used to make other crafts, too. The Amber Room is probably the most famous piece of large-scale art

quiz info

++

Your score is 100% (4/4). You earned 87 knowledge points in total.

Correct answers: 4 knowledge points

Challenge question bonus: 14 knowledge points

You also obtained 2 resources:

Perfect score bonus: 69 knowledge points

You obtained 4 resources!

You obtained 1 formula!

Ace! Congratulations, you got a perfect score! You won't be seeing this quiz again :)

Based on your outstanding performance on this quiz, we think you're ready to move up a level. We'll make your next quiz a little harder. Learn more

Where was the Amber Room originally built?

- A. St. Petersburg, Russia
- B. Kaliningrad, Russia
- C. Königsberg, Germany
- D. Berlin, Germany

Student Progress Report: AlexisM961 (Moreno-Mendoza, Alexis)

Critical statistics and graphs for every quiz completed since inception. Click or hover for details.

6571KP

Knowledge Points

3G/490L

Pretest Average
(Grade/Lexile)

Resolve

Resource Level

175/257

Quizzes Passed

4.06G/640L

Program Average
(Grade/Lexile)

